If you are applying under one of the schemes listed above you must apply using the online system at www.immigration.govt.nz/whs.

We will process your application only when we receive all the information and documents we need. If you do not send all the required information, we may return your application.

No person who holds a temporary visa (including a work visa) in New Zealand may provide commercial sexual services, or operate or invest in a business which provides commercial sexual services.

VisaView

It is an offence to employ a person who is not entitled to work in New Zealand. One way for employers to avoid committing this offence is to check a person's entitlement to work with Immigration New Zealand's online VisaView system. Disclosure of information through VisaView is authorised by legislation.

If you believe that an employer has been given the wrong entitlement information via VisaView you may contact the Immigration Contact Centre (0508 558 855) to request correction of that information.

Health requirements

If you intend to be in New Zealand for more than 12 months you must complete a Medical and Chest X-ray Certificate (INZ 1007) and provide it with your application.

If you intend to be in New Zealand for more than six months but not longer than 12 months, you must provide a completed X-ray Certificate for Temporary Entry (INZ 1096) with your application if you:

- are from a place that is not listed as a low incidence tuberculosis (TB) country, area or territory, or
- have spent more than a total of three months in the past five years in a country, area, or territory not listed as a low incidence TB country, area, or territory.

See the leaflet Health Requirements (INZ 1121) for more information and the list of low incidence TB countries, areas, and territories.

Pregnant women and children under 11 years of age are not required to have an X-ray, unless a special report is required.

If you seek health care when in New Zealand you should carry your passport so that health providers can check whether you are eligible for publicly-funded health care.
